PRIVATE NATURE RESERVE

A close-up, profile view of a topi's head, facing right. The animal has a white face with a brown stripe running from the eye down the side of the snout. Its ears are large and pointed. The most prominent feature is its thick, spiraling horns, which are dark and have a bumpy texture. The background is a soft, out-of-focus brown.
